

Chiropractic is a career that puts you in charge of your future.

The demand for chiropractors is expected to grow faster than average for all occupations through the year 2014 as consumer demand for alternative health care grows.

When you choose a career in chiropractic, you take command of your future, while expressing your concern and compassion for humanity.

Chiropractic abounds in opportunities.

Sherman College students learn the newest technology available, as interns in our on-campus Chiropractic Health Center.

Some of the directions in which your career in chiropractic may lead:

- » Private practitioner
- » Educator
- » Researcher
- » Lecturer

Sherman College has graduates practicing throughout the U.S. and in approximately 25 other countries.
